Why should you register? Hands down, because of our lineup of presenters. Ellis Collins and Randy Wooten are back by popular demand. These gentlemen will serve as the featured designers at our fall show.

This will be my first time attending...what should I know? Our shows are annual gatherings where we bring in industry-leading designers to teach you the latest trends and design techniques to keep you ahead of your competition. We encourage you to bring a camera, stay the whole weekend and be sure to leave room in your vehicle to take home lots of new items from our warehouse.

You must register for the upcoming show, and please limit registration to two people per company.
